

MAE Newsletter

January 2022

MAE Scholars 2022

We are excited to welcome a new cohort of 18 domestic and six international students in 2022. You can learn more about the students and their placements by clicking the link below.

Learn more

Oral Presentation: 2nd Place

Congratulations to Dr Hendrik Camphor, who was honoured with 2nd place for his oral presentation at the 10th Southeast Asia and Western Pacific Bi-regional TEPHINET Scientific Conference. His presentation was entitled: Retrospective Epidemiological Analysis of SARS-CoV2 Wastewater Surveillance and Case Notifications Data.

View the presentation

Calling all MAE Alumni

Are you interested in engaging with the next generation of field epidemiologists and staying up to date with the MAE program? Please consider joining our list of examiners.

Contact us

Congratulations to our Graduates!

Linda Garton (MAE 2016), Veronica Matthews (MAE 2018), Tracy Tsang (MAE 2019), Alvaro Berg Soto (MAE 2019), Srean Chhim (MAE 2019), Genevieve O'Neil (MAE 2019) and Olivia Williams (MAE 2019). Well done!

